MAY SECURE JURY FROM PRESENT VENIRE

State Will Not Exhaust Any More of Its Challenges

ON TALESMEN NOW IN THE BOX

There Are Some Prospects that the Peremptory Challenges on Both Sides Are About Over—Many New Witnesses Arrive in Boise, Idaho.

Boise, Idaho, May 21.—After a quiet Sunday intermission the trial of William D. Haywood, charged with the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenberg, opened Monday morning the eighth day of the jury getting.

According to the latest reports, the prosecution will not exhaust any more of its challenges on the talesmen now in the box, and while the defense has six peremptory challenges in reserve may remove one or two more from the box as at present it stands.

There are some prospects that the peremptory challenges on both sides are about all over. If these reports are true, there is a possibility of securing a jury without recourse to a new venire.

Among the witnesses who arrived late Sunday evening was General Bulkely Wells, who has been a picturesque figure connected with the story of the difficulties between the Western Federation of Miners and the mine owners. General Wells is now prominently connected with the Mine Owners' organization.

He is a wealthy mine owner himself, and it was at his mine in the Smuggler Union mine of Teluride, Colo., that Arthur Collins, the manager, was killed during the latests trouble in that state.

General Wells says that he has been unremitting in his determination to hunt down the men concerned i the assassination of Collins.

He was in command of the train which brought Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone from Colorado to Idaho, at the time they were arrested in Denver under extradition warrants. He will be one of the witnesses for the state when the case opens.

Lexington, Ky., May 21.—With the introduction of three or four witnesses Monday the testimony in the trial of Judge James Hargis, for the alleged assassination of James Cockrill, town marsnal of Jackson, will end.

Ed Callahan, Alex Hargis and Bill Britton, also charged with the killing of Cockrill, will be examined as will S. King Ford, of New York, who was in the office with Judge Hargis, when Cockrill was shot. Tuesday will be given over to arguments by counsel, and Wednesday will probably see a verdict or a jury disagreement.

The case of Judge James,, Senator Alex and Elbert Hargis, John Smith, John Abner and Ed Callahan, charged with the murder of Dr. B. D. Cox, on April 14, 1902, is set for trial next Monday at Sandy Hook, Elliott county. Cox's murder was the first of the series of 1902 and 1903, with the death of James B. Marcum and later arrest of all the Hargises, Callahan, Curtis Jett, White, Smith, Abner, Britton and others.

Counsel for the defense will answer ready if the Sandy Hook case is called and the accused will leave here for Sandy Hook as soon as this trial is complete.

Will Touch Foreign Ports.

New York, May 21.—On the third anniversary of her first cruise the Denver, Captain Davidson, of the Asiatic squadron, was accompanied by the Cleveland, Commander T. J. Newlon. When they reach the east they will form with the Galveston and the Chattanooga, the second division. Both cruisers will touch Gibraltar, Port Said, Arden, Colombo, Singapore and Manila. The crew of the Denver is new, and all the men are eager to see the world. As they are needed to relieve the other ships on the Asiatic station, the best speed possible will be maintained.

CUMBERLANDS FULL OF FIGHT.

Object to Being Absorbed by Northern Presbyterians.

Dickson, Tenn., May 21—The general assembly of the Cumbreland Presbyterian church held no session Sunday, but the great interest maintained during the three days the assembly has been in session has spread all over the state and the result was the greatest outpouring of the people seen in this section within the past century. Special trains brought hundreds of visitors and the little town of Dickson was thronged, religious services being held under large tent practically all day and late into the night, besides services at all of the churches conducted by visiting ministers.

The afternoon service at the tent was for men only, conducted by Dr. J. L. Hudgins, the retiring moderator of the assembly, and this was the most remarkable of the entire meeting. Dr. Hudgins announced that he wanted to raise $10,000 to defray expenses incident to the litigation into which the church had been drawn by reason of the union with the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., and at the end of two hours the clerks announced that the sum of $10,150 had been subscribed. The most remarkable thing about this collection was that no individual gave more than $100 and the number giving this amount exceeded fifty. The people of Dickson, exclusive of Cumberland Presbyterians, gave $1,000. The members of the assembly are very enthusiastic over this contribution and take it as a substantial endosement of its stand against organic union. This money will be used exclusively for protecting the property rights of the church.

He succeeded in evading capture until 1897, when he was arrested and sent to Siberia for organizing the first political strike in Russia. Vladimir escaped in the year 1901, disappeared, re-appeared in St. Petersburg under the name of Lenin after the publication of the amnesty decree of 1905, and immediately reassumed his old ascendancy in the social democratic party.

Editor Fined $110.

Lisbon, May 21.—An interesting case to test the validity of the new press law, just resulted in the editor of O'Mundo being convicted and fined $110. The paper to test the law, published an article that the prime minister was insane. Its proprietors engaged well known counsel, and was prepared to push the case to the most ridiculous extent, but the court would allow no discussion of the premier's mental condition. In this respect, the test was a failure, but it is believed that the agitation will ultimately result in the repeal of the obnoxious statute. Under its provisions a committee of public prosecutors is entrusted with arbitrary powers of censorship over every newspaper in Portugal.

CHARGE MADE BY DYING MAN.

Man Struck by Engine Makes Startling Statement.

Tifton, Ga., May 21—Glenn Blackshear, a young white man, was hit by a switch engine in the Georgia Southern and Florida railway yards, in Tifton, Saturday night at 11:45 o'clock.

Before his death he made statements to several parties that two men who had been his companions, Joe Hamlin and Arthur Barr, had struck him on the head with a piece of iron and thrown him in front of the engine. A good deal of circumstantial evidence appears to bear out part of his statement, while, on the other hand, his mind was wandering, and he told several stories that are known to be untrue.

It is known that all parties had been drinking together. Coroner Johns empaneled a jury, which has been investigating the case all day.

Blackshear was about 25 years old, and had lived in Tifton for some time. He has a mother and brother-in-law in Dawson.

ROCK SHOWERS FALL ON CARS.

Strike Breakers Having Hard Time at Evansville, Ind.

Evansville, Ind., May 21.—More than a score of persons, mostly strike breakers, were hurt, some seriously, Sunday in the attempt made by the street car company to resume traffic on its lines. Violence did not take on the aspect of rioting, but attacks on cars were more scattering and general all over the parts of the city than at any time during the time of the strike.

Sympathizers utilized their day of freedom as an occasion to bombard the strike breakers with missiles of every shape and sort. Bricks, scrap iron, pieces of timber, coal and rocks greeted cars on all lines in volleys. Almost in every instance, by the time the police arrived the guilty parties had secreted themselves in the crowd, leaving the injured mortorman and conductor to be taken care of by the officers.

Tale of Sea Having to Do With Horrors of

SHIP WRECKED IN MID OCEAN

Only a Crumb of Bread and a Spoonful of Water a Day for Each Man. They Were Rescued When at the Very Door of Death.

New York, May 21.—Another tale of the sea having to do with the horror of shipwreck in mid-ocean was related Sunday by Captain Clarendon Maxwell, who, with his crew of six men of the schooner Evrett Webster, arrived here on the steamer Philadelphia. At the same time the mystery surrounding the derelict schooner which had been reported by almost every Atlantic liner for the past month as lying in the main waterway, a serious menace to navigation, was explained.

The Webster, a three-masted vessel, belonging to Haldt & Cummins, of Philadelphia, left Wilmington, N. C., on March 31, bound for Philadelphia. When off cape Hatteras she ran into a series of heavy gales, and The deck load was washed away, and on the third day out, sprang a leak. The deck load was washed away, and Captain Maxwell ordered all the crew to the pumps, but constant work so exhausted them that their hands were raw and swollen to more than twice the normal size. Finally the captain gathered his men in the stern of his ship, the only part above the water, and a council was held. It was found that they had only a barrel of biscuits and a gallon jar of water left of their stores.

The fury of the storm had increased and the waves constantly broke over the men, and they were obliged to lash themselves fast. Westerly gales blew the schooner out to sea, far from the regular track of ships, and to add to their desperate condition, a wave which swept over the stern, upset the biscuit barrel and all but a few of the biscuits were lost. For six days the men lived on a portion of a biscuit each and a spoonful of water each day.

On April 13 a vessel bore down upon them. The members of the crew were delirious, but Captain Maxwell stood up and taking off his coat, waved it frantically above his head. It was the French bark Quevilly, Captain LaDonne, from Philadelphia to Rouen, France.

The bark lowered a boat and although high seas made the work extremely dangerous the shipwrecked men were rescued.

For a week they were nursed by the crew of the French bark. Arriving at Rouen they were taken in charge by the American consul who sent them to Southampton, where they boarded the Philadelphia.

Captain Maxwell said that before abandoning his vessel he set fire to her.

TWO GREEKS DISCHARGED BY MAYOR

That Official Could Not Believe Men Meant to Harm.

A MOST INTERESTING TRIAL

The Court Room Was Crowded to Hear the Testimony in a Case Which Created a Great Deal of Interest Monday—Witnesses Testified.

The two Greeks who were arrested by Marshal Arnow Sunday night upon a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by T. F. Davis, were arraigned in municipal court Tuesday morning, and attracted one of the largest crowds ever seen at a mayor's court here.

The defendants, neither of whom could speak a word of English, were accused by the plaintiff of attempting to enter his home and assault his wife early Sunday evening, when Mrs. Davis emptied the contents of two chambers of a revolver at them without effect, but one of the men was struck in the face and painfully injured by Mr. Davis. They succeeded in getting away, but were afterwards arrested, giving bond.

The affair caused a great deal of comment on the streets Monday, and when the case was called Tuesday morning there was hardly standing room in the city court room, which has a fair seating capacity.

Trial Begins.

The two defendants, the one with the injured face still suffering intensely, appeared on time. They were soon joined by their interpreter and their attorney, Col. Evans Haile, when the trial began.

The witnesses were placed under court rules and requested to leave the room. The first witness called was Mrs. Davis, who stated in substance that the defendants had passed the house several times during Sunday afternoon, and their action in gazing so intensely in caused a suspicion. She said nothing during the afternoon, however, but about dark the two men passed again, tarrying in the immediate vicinity of the home, and making gestures which would indicate that they were referring to the house. She then notified her husband, who was in the room reading. The husband replied that he did not suppose they meant anything, and not to pay any attention to their movements. Shortly afterward, however, the witness said, they passed again, stopping almost in front of the gate for a moment. She then went into the house, secured "her 32," and again notified her husband.

Mr. Davis secured a brick-bat and came upon the porch, sitting in the doorway. Mrs. Davis and her daughter, Miss Mabel, about sixteen years of age, took positions on the piazza, Mrs. Davis in possession of her pistol.

In a few moments, the witness declared, the two men returned to the house. One of them, she says, deliberately opend the gate and advanced toward her, when she fired. At the same time her husband threw the brick which struck the man in the face, when both men disappeared in the darkness.

The young lady, Miss Mabel Davis, was next called, and substantiated her mother's story with few exceptions of immaterial difference. She was positive the man was not seeking information, but "was slipping up on mamma like a cat slips upon a bird."

Mr. Davis was the last witness called for the prosecution, and his story agreed with that of his wife and daughter. He stated that he was seated in the door, and should have been in plain view of the defendants, as there was a light on the corner near the house.

Defense Makes Statement.

Through the interpreter, A. Chresostomidhes, the defense made a statement, which was in substance that they were looking for a Greek friend, whom some one had told them, was in that direction. They admitted having passed the home of the plaintiff, whom they did not know at the time, several times, but were merely walking around in an endeavor to locate their friend, who was a young man, a Greek, who could speak some English, and they were very anxious to find him. They denied that they had any ill intention against the plaintiff or his family, and added in their statement that they did not attempt to open the gate, although they might have stopped near it, when suddenly the pistol shots rang out, and one of them was struck with the brick before he was aware of what was transpiring. They made a retreat, naturally, and were afterwards arrested.

Byres Douglass, who happened to be passing about the time of the incident, testified in behalf of the defendants, stating that he had noticed them "prying into" two houses, but paid no particular attention to it, as they did not appear to be bolsterous or disorderly.

Defendants Discharged.

After weighing the matter carefully Mayor Thomas rendered his decision. He thought that the ladies, under the circumstances, were excited, laboring under the impression that the Greeks meant to attempt to do them harm; that it was indiscreet on the part of the defendants to stop constantly in the vicinity of anybody's home and use language which nobody but themselves could understand; but under the circumstances, the men being foreigners and unfamiliar with the customs and habits of the American people, and being unable to speak the English language, he thought it advisable to discharge them with a warning not to be guilty of such conduct again, if they did not desire the strongest sentence of the law passed upon them.

TUESDAY'S SESSION OF CIRCUIT COURT

One of the Busiest and Most Important the Term Has Yet Had.

TEN PRISONERS SENTENCED

The Sentences Range from Life-Time Down to Four Months—Three Men Sent Up for Life for Murder—the Strobhar Case Again in Court.

The circuit court opened at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, His Honor Judge Wills presiding, with State Attorney A. V. Long present.

The first business before the court was the return of the special venire of four to complete the panel of the petit jury for the third week, which was as follows: W. W. Avera, S. H. Hall, W. T. Chesnut and J. A. McKinstry.

The first case to be called was that of the State vs. S. Childs and Geo. Pettys, charged with selling liquor in a county which had voted against the sale of same. The defendants, who were previously arraigned and pleaded not guilty, were in open court, and a jury was called and sworn, evidence and argument submitted, and a verdict returned of not guilty. C. J. Grace was foreman of the jury. Attorney Evans Haile was the defendants' attorney.

The Strobhar Case.

The important proceedings of the day, as had been suggested in advance by The Sun, was the argument to strike the plea of "antres fois acquit," entered by J. N. Strobhar, charged with embezzlement, on the 17th inst. State Attorney Long, who is not only an ambitious but a faithful and efficient worker in the interest of the State, made the motion, and the defendant, with his counsel, Attorneys B. A. Thrasher and Frank Clark, being in court, the argument was begun.

The defendant, accompanied by his attentive wife, showed evidence of serious illness, and to substantiate the statement of his condition a number of affidavits and statements from various physicians and others were produced and read before the court.

At the conclusion of the argument for striking of plea, the court sustained the motion of the State, when the defendant was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Owing to the condition of the defendant, a motion was made to continue the case until the fall term of the court, and this motion is under advisement by the court.

Prisoners Sentenced.

The court proceeded to sentence the following prisoners, convicted at the present term of the court, and all of whom were present:

Jonas James, aggravated assault, twelve months at hard labor in county jail.

Bessie Holt, larceny, twelve months in county jail at hard labor.

MONDAY'S DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Two Busy Sessions of the Senate Were Held.

HOUSE ADOPTS PENSION BILL

Humphries Text-Book Bill Goes to Committee on Engrossed Bills in Senate—House Passes Primary Election Contest Bill.

After two long and busy sessions of the Senate Monday, that body momentarily forgot the resolution adopted Saturday morning, providing for night sessions, and adjourned after the afternoon session over until 9 o'clock Tuesday, a half hour earlier than that body has met any day during the present session.

The House by its unanimous adoption of the Senate pension bill of Mr. Broome goes on record as being fully the equal of the Upper House in liberality to the remaining Confederate veterans and their widows.

The Governor's message relative to the recent decision of the United States court on the unconstitutionality of assessment laws, as printed in new general statutes, really brings up two most important propositions. The committee on finance and taxation now have the matter in hand.

The Jacksonville charter bill is still unsigned. The Governor has until Wednesday in which to record his veto, should he decide to take this rather improbable step, in view of present conditions. It is, of course, possible, if not probable, that he will permit the bill to become a law without his approval or disapproval.

W. H. Wyatt of Bradentown, sheriff of Manatee county, was in Tallahassee Monday and officially called upon the sheriff of Leon county, with capias issued from the county court of Manatee for the arrest of Claude L'Engle, on the charge of libel in the case of John A. Graham, and presented same to the sheriff of Leon county for execution, which process the sheriff of Leon refused to serve at this time, owing to Mr. L'Engle's duties in connection with State printing during the existing session of the Legislature.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate was called to order at 10 a. m., President Harris in the chair, and a quorum present.

Senator Humphries called up Senate bill No. 101 on the table subject to call—A bill to be entitled an act to secure to the people of Florida school text-books at reduced prices, to provide special editions of said books at low prices, to empower county boards of public instruction to adopt such books if desired; to authorize county boards of public instruction to make contracts with publishers to provide for the filling of contracts; to provide a penalty for any dealer, clerk or agent who may sell school text-books at greater prices than may be entered in contracts between boards of public instructions and publishers, and for other purposes. It was read in full the second time and after the adoption of a number of additional amendments, the bill was ordered to the committee on engrossed bills from which it will go to the calendar of bills on third reading.

Senate bill No. 260, by Mr. Broome—To protect birds known as the turtle dove, read second time, rules waived, read third time in full and passed, 23 to 0.

ANOTHER "KNOCKER."

Life in Florida Did Not Evidently Suit This Illinois Youth.

The Hillsboro Journal, published in Hillsboro, Ill., date of March 22, contains the following, which will be little heeded except to show the disgruntled spirit of some people who are never satisfied, even in a growing and prosperous country like Florida. We will leave the balance in the hands of intelligent people who know.

Following is what the young man has to say:

"Chester Dreyhus returned from Pensacola, Fla., Monday, where he spent the winter working in the navy yard. His mother spent the winter at Tampa with relatives and has not yet returned. Mr. Dreyhus says a poor man is 30 per cent better off here than there. Wages are 20 per cent higher and necessaries 10 per cent cheaper. The people are indolent and care little for good wages. All they care for is to get work where they can boss 'the niggers,' then they are happy. He had good health and worked nearly every day. In fact, everything was so high, he could not afford to be idle long. The last two weeks has been oppressively hot. He suffered more from heat than he did any time here last summer."

NOON IN GAINESVILLE.

What is Going on in Town When the Clock Strikes 12.

Noon, the dinner hour, the hour of comfort, of pleasure and relaxation—the one hour in the twenty-four which comes to men and women of every station with greater similarity than the hour of any other function in life.

Promptly as the clock strikes 12 in Gainesville the shadows on anxious faces turn to lines of good will, and if vilaneous hot bread, pies, spices and other indigestibles were excluded there would be no such words as dyspepsia or indigestion in the dictionary.

But the contrary is true, and medical science has to step in and aid the man or woman who has been too busy to pay proper attention to health.

The greatest step forward in medical discovery is Mi-o-na, which cures ail stomach and digestive troubles.

In hundreds of the best homes in Gainesville and adjoining towns the handy little tablets, so pleasant to take, yet effective, have given quick and lasting relief in indigestion and that disagreeable full feeling after eating.

Mi-o-na acts very gently. Much of its wonderful power over indigestion comes from its uniform but sustaining action. The required stimulating and strengthening is given to the important organs of digestion without producing the slightest weakness or reaction.

A 50-cent box lasts for a couple of weeks and will ward off a dozen attacks of indigestion. J. W. McCollum gives a guarantee, absolute and unqualified, with every box of Mi-o-na to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

Kentucky Wants Immigrants.

New York, May 21.—T. H. Vreeland, state commissioner of agriculture and State Senator J. W. Newman, of Kentucky, are in town with a letter from Frank Sargent, commissioner of immigration, to Commissioner Robert Washburn, asking the latter to afford the two every facility for relieving the conditions at Ellis Island, and that they may report to their state on the advisability of encouraging immigration to settle in Kentucky.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

Health Is the First Essential Toward Making a Woman Attractive.

MISS HULDA KUGHLER MISS ELIZABETH WYNN

There is a beauty and attractiveness in health which is far greater than mere regularity of feature.

A sickly, irritable, and complaining woman always carries a cloud of depression with her; she is not only unhappy herself but is a damper to all joy and happiness when with her family and friends.

It is the bright, healthy, vivacious woman who always charms and carries sunshine wherever she goes.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging and that everything tires her; if her feminine system fails to perform its allotted duties, there is nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing-down pains, and irregularities, causing constant misery and melancholia, she should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs will dispel all these troubles. By correcting the cause of the trouble it cures where other treatment may have failed.

Miss Elizabeth Wynn, of No. 205 8th Avenue, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For months I suffered with dreadful headaches, pain in the back and severe hemorrhages. I was weak and out of sorts all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me when all other medicine had failed. It seemed to be just what I needed and quickly restored my health."

Miss Hulda Kughler, of No. 25, West 15th Street, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For months I was ill with an internal trouble. I suffered terrible agony, was nervous, irritable, and sick all the time. I took different medicines without benefit. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and within six months I was completely restored to health and I want to recommend it to every suffering woman."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular functions, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacements, inflammation or ulceration, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

STATE GROWERS ARE AFTER RAILROADS

Lengthy Petition for Relief Filed With Commerce Commission.

SOME STRIKING COMPARISONS

Showing the Discrimination of the Defendant Transportation Companies in the Matter of Rates Have Been Exhibited in the Petition.

The Florida Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' Association, of which F. D. Warner of this city is president, feeling agrieved at the apparent discrimination against the growers of Florida in the matter of rates from points in this State to the markets of the East, as compared with rates on the class from points in California, Cuba, Porto Rico, etc., have prepared a lengthy petition of relief with the Interstate Commerce Commission, and some good is anticipated by the petitioner.

The defendants in this petition are the Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line, Southern Railway, Florida East Coast railway, Clyde Steamship Company, et al., and relates to the excessive rates on citrus fruits from this State. The following comparisons will prove of interest to the people of Florida, especially those most directly interested:

The rate from Los Angeles, California, a distance of 3,261 miles, to New York, $1.15 per hundred pounds, while from Arcadia, 1,203 miles, the rate is $9.37 per hundred pounds; that freight on citrus fruits from Cuba, Jamacia and Porto Rico, to New York, is 25 cents per standard box, while the rate on said fruit from Jacksonville to New York, a much shorter distance, is 60 cents per standard box; that the rate on celery from Sanford to the principal markets in other States are almost equal to, and in some instances greater, than the rate to same markets from Los Angeles, notwithstanding that the distance from Los Angeles to these markets is double the distance from Sanford.

Mention is also made regarding the discrimination in charges for refrigeration, which are practically about the same proportion as transportation rates.

The petition alleges and exhibits numerous other discriminations against the Florida grower by the defendant companies, and states that the through rate for transportation of fruits and vegetables from points in Florida have remained practically unchanged for the past twenty years, notwithstanding the rapid growth and development of the State in all lines, business and shipping interests, especially in the production of fruits and vegetables.

Taking into consideration the output of the State in the lines mentioned, it does seem a great injustice to the Florida producer, being nothing short of a disastrous discrimination, which places him in the face of great disadvantages.

The Florida Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' Association, of which F. D. Warner of this city is president and J. C. Chase is secretary, was organized in Jacksonville a few months ago. The movement was originated through the Gainesville and Alachua County Melon Growers' Association, which received the hearty co-operation of the other county associations of the State. Its purposes and principles are destined to prove of the greatest benefit, as the association is determined to prosecute its claims for an impartial apportionment of freight rates throughout the country.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips, of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

SANTA FE HAPPENINGS.

Interesting Letter from the Correspondent of That Lively Burg.

Santa Fe, Fla., May 20.—The farmers here have taken a determined stand, and are waging a war of extermination on the grass that was choking the life out of their crops. Owing to the recent rainy weather after the protracted drought, some of our farmers are having a hard struggle to get their crops in good condition, labor being scarce.

The prospects are indeed bright here for a good crop, especially for corn and cotton. Cotton, though late, is looking fine with good stands generally.

Cane crops are short and bad stands. Oats will be an average crop. There is an increase of cotton over last year, planted.

We have the assurance from the railroad officials that a regular depot will be established here instead of a flag station as it is now.

The two turpentine stills here are running in full force now.

Miss Rosabelle Plowden, a charming young lady of Live Oak, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McGregar last week.

Miss Alma Blitch attended the commencement exercises of the Alachua public school last week.

Col. T. S. Baisden and family of Live Oak are visiting their son-in-law, Capt. W. R. McGregar, this week. Mr. Baisden expresses himself as being well pleased with this section.

We are expecting in the near future an addition to our lively little burg, in the shape of an extensive cotton ginnery and grist mill, which will fill a long-felt want. There is no better location than this for such an enterprise.

We have come to the conclusion that since the Florida Legislature in its great effort to protect all the animals, fowls of the air, the fishes of the sea, lakes and ponds, the turtles, terrapins, gophers and all creeping things, they have neglected to protect the modest little animal that is held by the negro in as great esteem as is his watermelons. The opposum is yet left out and unprotected. He is as handsome as the gopher, and seldom invades anyone's premises in the day time.

Death of Sir Benjamin Baker.

New York, May 21.—A dispatch from London announces the death of Sir Benjamin Baker, one of the world's greatest engineers. It was he who invented the pneumatic shield which has rendered so much assistance in tunnelling under rivers. The late engineering works by which he will be remembered are the Froth Bridge in Scotland and the Assouan dam. Eiffel, the French engineer, declared the former "the greatest contruction in the world. It is 2,756 yards long and cost $15,000,000. It is built on the cantilever principle, and its main spans are each 100 feet longer than the spans of the Brooklyn bridge. The Assouan dam also cost $15,000,000. It is a mile and a quarter long, and raises the level of the Nile 67 feet.

Bonilla Will Go To Farming.

New Orleans, La., May 21.—Former President Manuel Bonilla, of Honduras, said in an interview here that he intends to go into business in Belize, British Honduras. He expects to become a general broker for tropical forest products, and also will run a plantation of his own. Color is lent to this statement by the fact that before becoming president of Spanish Honduras, Bonilla was a plantation owner and general broker in Belize. Mr. Bonilla was slightly indisposed upon his arrival here.

Trolley Car Was Ill-Fated.

Birmingham, Ala., May 21—Frank Lyon, a young man employed as a chemist at the Ensley Steel plant, fell under the wheels of a North Ensley car late Sunday night, and was instantly killed. The car had proceeded but a short distance after the accident when a negro jumped from the car, without provocation, turned and fired on Conductor Boone three times, one bullet entering the back and going through a lung. The outcome of his injury cannot yet be determined.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapaciated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlan's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by all druggists.

FIGHHT TO REFORM EXCHANGE

Ex-Senator McLaurin Calls for Co-Operation.

New York, May 21.—Former United States Senator John L. McLaurin, of South Carolina, who is in this city to take part in the progress of the injunction suit brought by Theodore H. Price, the cotton operator, against the New York Cotton exchange, to restrain the exchange from enforcing its system of grading cotton, talked concerning the points at issue in the case. The suit follows a preliminary injunction obtained by Price, but the provisions of which he agreed to waive, provided the exchange would agree to an immediate trial upon the principles at issue. To this the exchange consented, and Justice Bischoff, of the supreme court, named Charles E. Rushmers, referee to take testimony. Price's counsel is William M. Ivins, and Henry W. Taft represents the cotton exchange.

Senator McLaurin said:

"I hope that I shall have the benefit of the co-operation and advice of all persons who agree that the point of suit is right, and particularly those whose demands for a strict fulfillment of their outstanding contracts will help to force the exchange to adopt the reforms sought to be effected.

"With regard to the attitude of the south, on the entire question, I think I may safely say that nothing in recent years has created so much interest."

CLEAN MACHINERY.

Every man who knows anything about it will say that machinery must be kept clean if the best work is expected from it. Exactly the same is true of the machinery of the body, which can do its work properly only when kept clear of clogging accumulation. The bodily machinery of the human being is clogged when there is constipation and this can be permanently cured and prevented from becoming chronic only by restoring the strength of weakened muscles. Experienced medical men find that this can best be done by the use, until there is free movement of the bowels, of teaspoonful doses, at bedtime and before each meal, of a preparation of ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Senna, ½ oz. Rochelle Salts, 1 oz. Aro-Sagrado, 30 grains Bi-Carbonate of Soda, ½ oz. water and 1½ ozs. Glycerine. The ingredients are all entirely harmless and any good druggist can prepare the medicine.

Hammers.

Hammers are represented on the monuments of Egypt twenty centuries before our era. They greatly resembled the hammer now in use, save that there were no claws on the back for the extraction of nails. The first hammer was undoubtedly a stone held in the hand. Claw hammers were invented some time during the middle ages. Illuminated manuscripts of the eleventh century represent carpenters with claw hammers. Hammers are of all sizes, from the dainty instruments used by the jeweler, which weigh less than half an ounce, to the gigantic fifty ton hammer of shipbuilding establishments, some of which weigh as much as fifty tons and have a falling force of from ninety to a hundred. Every trade has its own hammer and its own way of using it.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Considerable amusement was created last week by the rumor that Thomas Fortune Ryan, the boss of New York finance, and a resident of Virginia, was after the Senatorship from the Old Dominion. Mr. Ryan has always been proud of his native State, and has given a good deal of money there first and last. His most recent benefaction was the immense cathedral just dedicated at Richmond. Then came the news that the Jamestown Exposition was in financial difficulties, and Mr. Ryan subscribed to a large block of the bonds that the company issued and so helped them out materially. The story was immediately started that he was after the Senatorship from the State, said that he had his eye on the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. The story is almost too wild to need denial. The fact is that Mr. Ryan did not want his name known in connection with the Exposition bonds, and so far as the nomination either for the Senate or the Presidency is concerned, he is not only too busy to attend to either, but his connection with most of the biggest corporate interests of the country would bar him from the least consideration as a matter of the most elementary practical politics.

FARMERS UNPROTECTED.

It is perhaps not generally known that there was imported into the United States during the fiscal year 1906, 70,879,179 pounds of cotton of the value of $10,878,433, which makes the price 15 3-10 cents a pound in the country from which imported. It is estimated that there will be imported from Egypt alone this year about 115,000 bales of cotton which it will cost about $10,000,000, as the Egyptian cotton being long staple of the sea-island variety, it sells for much higher price than our upland cotton. This imported cotton only competes with our sea-island product and as there is not sufficient of that quality raised here to supply the demand, it is probable that the price of the home product is not reduced by those imports.

As there is no tariff on cotton the Southern planter is not protected from competition, but as he is now receiving a fair price for his product, with a rising market, he is making money.

The Republican theory of protecting the wheat farmer with a tariff tax of 25 cents a bushel is shown by the low price of wheat during the past year, to be useless, because no product can be protected from competition, by placing a tariff tax on it, of which there is a surplus that must be sold abroad. Our surplus of both cotton and wheat must be sold in the markets of the world in competition with the surplus of other countries and the demand in those markets regulates the price of the whole crop wherever grown and wherever sold.

The tariff tax on wheat was not included in the Dingley law to protect the wheat farmer, but as a deceptive snare to lure him to continue to vote the Republican ticket and Republican leaders who enacted a tariff on wheat knew they were trying to deceive the wheat farmer when they put it into the law. They would have likewise placed a tariff on cotton to try and deceive the cotton grower, but as these were all Democrats such a tariff tax would have been politically useless.

The growing political independence of the farmers of the wheat-growing States has been brought about by their discovery that protection does not protect the farmer, but does impose a heavy tax on him by the high prices that the tariff protected trusts charge for what he buys. Those intelligent farmers who have always supported Democratic policies know this and now their Republican neighbors are also having their eyes opened.

The Republican nominees for President and Vice-President have been decided upon by President Roosevelt as Taft and Hughes. It is interesting to know that Boss Cox of Ohio has by acting with the President been able to bring about this happy family arrangement by backing his fellow townsman for the nomination. It's a cold day when "Coxey old boy" gets left in a political deal and he is now in a fair way to take the place of "my dear Harriman" as a welcome guest at the White House. Politics certainly do make strange bedfellows.

Is another re-organization of the cabinet impending? The report that Secretary Root has "ideas of his own" and has therefore become distasteful to the President and that Secretary Bonaparte is paying but little attention to the business of his department, is the way changes are generally heralded in advance.

The Roosevelt machine State committee of New York has turned down a resolution by 32 to 4 endorsing Governor Hughes for President. New York Republicans will have to be satisfied with Teddy or Taft.

The Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons was in session in Washington last week, and while the most of their deliberations were entirely too deep to the outsider to follow, there was one branch of the discussion of the most vital public interest. It was the section of the congress devoted to the study and prevention of consumption. Almost all of the progress in popular knowledge of this dreaded disease in the past few years has been due to the National Association. It has branches in fifteen States, will have them in seven more States before the summer is over, and is affiliated with the International Society of the same sort which will have an immense congress in Washington next winter. The chief work of the National Association now is education. It has prepared a number of simple volumes for free distribution. These tell just what consumption is, how it is spread and show the best methods of precaution against it. They show that the disease can be checked at almost any stage and entirely cured in the earlier stages, and in fact, give a world of simple and practical information that ought to be known by everyone in every community. The officers of all the State societies are anxious to forward this work for education, and persons interested will be furnished with literature and suggestions on application to them. Anyone interested and wanting advice can get it by applying to the health officer of the nearest town, who will be able to put them into communication with the office of the nearest State society.

Will Try to Keep Off Fight.

Columbus, O., May 21.—On high authority it is stated that Dr. Henry E. Dosker, chairman of the standing committee on temperance in the Presbyterian general assembly has determined to make an unusual move in hope of keeping out of the fight now on. He will return the overture referred to his committee on this question back to the origin committee—the committee on bills and overtures. The overture that is causing the row is to the effect that the church temperance should be conducted, and recommends that the church give hearty support to the anti-saloon league.

Killed at Negro Ball Game.

New Orleans, La., May 21.—G. G. Richardson, a plantation overseer, was shot and killed while watching a negro baseball game in Jefferson parish Sunday. A negro named Lewis was killed while trying to support the dying overseer, and Jesse Clark, the negro who did the shooting, made his escape to this city, where he has not yet been captured. Richardson and a few white men forcibly upbraided a negro woman for her actions at the game, when Clark began shooting. The overseer and his companions returned the fire.

Hotels Refused Negro Delegates.

Seattle, Wash., May 21.—Seattle negroes met Sunday and passed resolutions asking negro bishops and delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention to be held here this summer, to stay away from the convention and the city. One of the hotels of this city recently refused to reserve accommodations for the negro delegates with the white delegates. The Christion Endeavor entertainment committee refused to interfere with the ruling of the hotels, and the action of the negroes is the result.

Increase in Wages Requested.

Lowell, Mass., May 21.—The Lowell Textile Council voted at a special meeting Sunday to request an increase in wages of 10 per cent in all of the seven great cotton mills in the city, including the Lawrence, Tremont and Suffolk, Merrimac, Boott, Appleton, Massachusetts and Hamilton mills. It is understood that the action was unanimous. Nearly 20,000 operatives are concerned in the demand.

Italian Trackmen Strike.

New Haven, Conn., May 21—Nearly 5,000 Italian trackmen employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford on all divisions on the road, went on strike Monday, as the result of the roads refusing their demand for a 10 per cent increase in their present wages of $1.50 a day. It is said that the strike will extend from New York to Boston.

Dr. Sankey Dead.

Rochester, N. Y., May 21.—The Rev. Dr. James Patterson Sankey, aged 68, died Monday in his home in this city. Dr. Sankey was born in Londonderry, O., and was the oldest pastor in point of service in Rochester, having been connected with the United Presbyterian church for forty-one years. He retired from active ministry June 30, 1905.

Combat Errors of Social Democrats.

Hamburg, May 21.—The Fatherland Labor League, consisting of thirty-seven labor organizations, was organized here Sunday for the purpose of combatting the errors of social democracy. Telegrams expressing warm sympathy with the object of the league were received from Emperor William and Prince Von Buelow.

Cold Blooded Animals.

The so called cold blooded animals vary from the warm blooded in the particular that their blood changes temperature in accordance with their surroundings. The temperature of a fish will be almost exactly the same as that of the water around it, possibly one or two degrees higher. A snake's temperature is higher in summer than in winter, the average being 82 degrees. A bird's average temperature is 107. The average temperature of the mammals is 101 degrees.

Confided In Her.

Her Mother—Does your husband take you into his confidence regarding his business affairs? Young Wife—Oh, yes; he did so only this morning. When I asked him to let me have $50 for a new gown he said he was very sorry, but business was so bad just now he couldn't possibly do it.—Chicago News.

How Odd.

Joakley—Queer thing about that tall man over there. All his intimate friends call him "Short." Poakley—Ah, just for a joke, I suppose? Joakley—No; because that's his name.—Tit-Bits.

SHORTHAND.

The Quality That Appears to Be Lacking In All Systems.

The fatality of all systems of shorthand is that what seems easy to the eye of filial piety may be terribly difficult to the cold gaze of a stranger. Of the innumerable systems of shorthand that were the vogue a century ago how many survive today? asks a London writer. Fame and fortune still await the man or woman who can invent a system that will appeal to the reader as effectively as to the original writer. Perhaps if we were to rediscover the lost shorthand writing of the ancient Romans we might find ourselves on the road toward a solution of the problem.

For the Romans were on affectionate terms with shorthand. Did not Suetonius, speaking of Caligula, express surprise that an emperor of so many promising parts should nevertheless be an ignoramus in shorthand, and did not Titus Vespasianus pride himself on his facility in the use of stenography both for business and amusement? So fond was he of the sport that he delighted to gather his amanuenses around him in order that they should tilt against each other in the stenographic field. It may be that but for the rediscovery of the art in England toward the end of the sixteenth century the curious Pepys would not have been moved to write his diary.

VENEZUELA.

Beauty of the Country and the Impression It Leaves.

The beauty of the country is the first and the most lasting impression. To catch glimpses at every turn in the valleys of cloudy peaks, or when on the mountain side to see through the limpid air valley after valley between the protecting hills, to breathe this pure air, to know that summer is almost perpetual—he is only half a man who does not for a moment forget the needs of civilization in the intoxication of primitive nature. The loveliness of Venezuela is something different from that of the Andean ranges farther west and south. It is more tropical, and the mountains do not rise to the height in which the senses are stilled by grandeur, nor is there found so near the equator that ruggedness or gloom of solemnity which is one feature of the Rockies. It is a beauty of more human type, which can be enjoyed most when we know that man has his abode there. The Andes, the Alps or the Rockies are bold and austere. They need no life. Life is not meant for them. But such contrasts and changes as are constantly presented to the eye in these softened landscapes are more exquisite when man is pottering about on the surface trying to imagine that he is of some real importance on the earth.—Reader Magazine.

Before the Bar.

The terms "admitted to the bar" and "before the bar" are of English origin. The "bar" in question is the barrier or railing which separates the judge and the other officers of the court from the rest of the courtroom. In earlier days the parties to a suit presented themselves before this bar, accompanied by their counsel. A lawyer, after keeping the required number of terms at the inns of court and passing a satisfactory examination, was then entitled to appear before the bar on behalf of a client, or, in other words, he was "admitted to the bar." The English word "barrister" suggests the technical meaning of this word.—Scrap Book.

Snake Worship.

Python worship or the worship of snake gods is still practiced in parts of the west coast of Africa. In Dahomey and Ashanti there are temples where pythons are kept to receive the adoration of the people. The snakes are not confined to the precincts of the temples. Small holes are left in the inclosing wall, through which they pass and sometimes make themselves very much at home in the houses of the people. When a stray snake is found word is sent to the temple, the priests come and with many apologies to his snakeship pick him up and carry him back home.

To Be Exact.

"Jane," asked Mrs. Hiram Offen, "are the eggs boiling?"

"Most assuredly not, madam," replied the new servaat, lately from Boston, "but I may safely say the water in which the eggs are immersed is."—Philadelphia Press.

The Change.

"You certainly look better. You must have followed my advice and had a change."

"Yes, doctor, so I have."

"Where did you go?"

"I went to another physician."

Wouldn't Waste Time.

An assumed critic on etiquette says an invitation to dine should be accepted the same day. Any chump knows that much. We'd have an answer in the postoffice within ten minutes.—Yates Center (Kan.) News.

Fighting For Fire.

A great ceremony in Jerusalem is on Easter Saturday, and commemorates the ancient tradition of the celestial fire that was said to rise from the tomb of Christ. The Greek patriarch enters the sanctuary of the sepulcher, the door closes behind him, and the surging, tossing, tumultuous multitude await the coming of the fire. Suddenly out of the right hand window in the wall of the sepulcher shoot flames of fire, and in an instant every one of the thousands has produced a candle and dashes madly forward to light it at the mystic fire. The light thus taken from the holy sepulcher is instantly carried to all the Christian villages round about Jerusalem, and fleet footed young men vie with one another in being first to light their local shrines with the divine flame. The writer has seen two rival runners put down their candles and indulge in a sanguinary battle with knives and sticks until the light of one of them is put out. There is no joke meant here, but each is striving desperately to extinguish the flame of the other.—Travel Magazine.

A New Orleans Dish.

The greatest, the most toothsome and sustaining of all dishes is the gombo file one encounters in New Orleans—not at public eating houses, but in private residences. It is a strange yet halcyon compound of five different integers, each cooked separately and afterward joined in a most delectable and fragrant mess. There are fried chicken, broiled bacon, stewed oysters, peppers and smothered onions, all prepared with unutterable skill. These one by one are emptied into a pot of most celestial "stock," and then when the conglomeration is complete for service the presiding genius of the kitchen pours into the ecstatic confection a shower of fine green dust—the powdered leaf of the sassafras—and there you have a plate that would have made Lucullus gasp in simple wonder. There is none like it nor shall be till our summers are deceased.—New York Sun.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Mr. Wm. McNally and Miss Delia Jolly Were Happily Married.

Orange Heights, May 21.—The marriage of Miss Delia May Jolly and Mr. Wm. McNally of Gainesville took place on Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jolly, when the ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Lynch of Gainesville, a gathering of relatives and friends witnessing the nuptials.

A dainty robe of white silk batiste over white silk was worn by the bride. There were no attendants, the bridal couple coming alone, keeping time to Mendelssohn's Wedding March, which was played by Miss Belle Geiger of Waldo.

The decorations of the house were most attractive and artistic, being all carried out in spanish moss, ferns, beautiful pot plants and cut flowers.

After the ceremony the young couple received the congratulations of their relatives and friends, after which refreshments were served.

The pretty gifts were displayed in one of the rooms. There was silverware, china, glassware, woodenware, linens and fancy work.

There were present from out of town Mrs. McNally and son, mother and brother of the groom, from Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs Beasley, grandfather and grandmother of the bride, from Tampa; Mrs. Andrew Jolly and son, Mrs. Kramer and daughter, and Miss Belle Geiger from Waldo, Mr. and Mrs. Thigpin and three daughters from Rochelle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McNally will make Gainesville their future home.

All wish them a long and happy life.

The Board of Trade.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade Tuesday morning, which was fairly attended, special representatives of the Florida Industrial Record and Florida Agriculturist appeared before the board in the interest of a special edition they were getting out for their respective papers, and each received the hearty endorsement of the board.

The Industrial Record is to issue a special immigration number, under the auspices of the State Board of Trade, in co-operation with the various local boards throughout the State.

The Florida Agriculturist seeks to publish a special Gainesville edition.

Both gentlemen received the endorsement of the local Board of Trade, and are now at work on their respective editions.

Agreements Are About Concluded.

St. Petersburg, May 21.—Agreements with Great Britain and Japan, according to the Slovo are about to be concluded. It is expected that agreements will be signed simultaneously within two or three weeks.

WORK AHEAD FOR GRAND JURY.

Several Important Cases Will Be Considered by Jurors.

Atlanta, May 21—The Fulton county grand jury for the May term of superior court will hold a meeting Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock. There are several important matters awaiting the consideration of the grand jury, and the session will a very busy one.

The case of Fred Bush, charged with assault with intent to murder, is awaiting action, and he will probably be indicted Wednesday. Bush, who is charged with sending an infernal machine to the home of Mrs. Julia McCarthy, on Georgia avenue, about two weeks ago, was bound over by Judge Broyles under a $10,000 bond. He has never been able to make the bond, and is still incarcerated in the county jail.

The case is one of the most sensational in the history of Fulton county courts, and the action of the grand jury and the subsequent trial, in case he is indicted is awaited with more than ordinary interest.

Among the other matters which the grand jury will no doubt consider are the nine bucket shop cases, which are also awaiting action. The parties in these cases were indicted some time ago, there being ten in jail, but one was used as a test case of the Boykin law prohibiting the operation of bucket shoys in this state. The operator was convicted and fined $1,000 by Judge Roan, of the criminal division of the superior court, and the judgment was affirmed last week by the supreme court.

Immediately after the decision of the higher court was renedered, Solicitor Hill directed Captain Monaphan to prepare the indictments against the other parties and have them ready by the time the grand jury meets.

Judge Roan has not decided the date on which he will convene court, but it is probable the remainder of the bucket shop cases will be among the first disposed of.

If You Don't

Succeed the first time use Herbine and you will get instant relief. The greatest liver regulator. A positive cure for Constipation, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and all liver complaints. Mr. C—. of Emory, Texas, writes: "My wife has been using Herbine for herself and children for five years. It is a sure cure for constipation and malaria fever, which is substantiated by what it has done for my family." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

End of Investigation.

San Francisco, May 21—This week it is said will see the end of the grand jury's graft investigation, except for the picking up later of loose ends of testimony concerning the minor corruption deals and the examination into the affairs of the municipal departments. Evidences concerning every one of the big grafts which the prosecution announced their intention of exposing is well in hand, and a batch of indictments will, it is expected, be voted within the next few days. District Attorney Langston has stated that the conclusion of the gigantic work is now nearing completion.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

THE POCKET SAVINGS BANK EPIDEMIC RAGES FIERCELY IN GAINESVILLE.....

Beneficent epidemics are scarce, but such a one has struck Gainesville, and people of every station and occupation have the fever.

It is most interesting and instructive to study the constantly changing line of applicants for Pocket Banks as it files through The Sun's business office. There is the mother, bringing her daughter with her and securing a bank for the girl, another for herself, and inquiring anxiously whether she may have another for the boy who is at work. She receives it promptly.

Boys come—some are steady, serious-faced chaps who have begun to think on their own account, and who ask questions about the operation of the scheme which show the results of rubbing up against the world.
